Open House

Stuyvesant had its annual open house, where families came to check out what our school has to offer. StuyPulse gave presentations on what our team does, as well as the goals of FIRST. Our team also demoed DEStiny and Wildcard, our robots for 2016 and 2018, respectively.

Newbie Education

Each of our departments started their newbie education. Engineering newbies were taught the basics of VEX robots and lab safety. They were then introduced to this year's newbie game, a game that is created by our veteran members. The newbie game is intended to imitate an FRC game, but on a smaller scale. Our newbies were then put in groups, with a veteran member in each group, and were tasked with building a robot to compete in the game. Software Engineering newbies were taught the basics of coding and a little bit of Java. Marketing newbies learned about all the different awards that our team submits for competitions.

Bloomberg Volunteering

During the past few weekends our team has been volunteering with Bloomberg. Our members planted tree guards and pulled out weeds at the Conference House park. We also placed pumpkins throughout the fields on Governor's Island and gave out candy to trick or treaters who visited the island.

Bake Sale

Our robotics team hosted its first bake sale of the school year. Our members spent their free periods helping sell baked goods to their peers and teachers. We want to hank all the parents who came and volunteered; we couldn't have done it without there support!

Duel on the Delaware

StuyPulse attended Duel on the Delaware, where we ranked 17th during qualifications. However, our team was still able to win the event with our alliance partners, Team 1218 and Team 1626. During this event, our team had its 100th win of the season, which is something that very few FRC teams accomplish in one season.
